Adoption Agreement re: Responsibility, Adoptions, Returns, and Donations:

Adopting a new dog is a huge commitment and not to be entered into lightly - or on a whim. Think carefully about whether or not you (not your kids) are ready to take care of a new dog, and do it well. Perspective adopters are screened carefully to ensure that all dogs go to responsible and nurturing homes.

As an Animal Rescue organization there are many costs involved in rescuing and caring for dogs. As a 501c3 non-profit Animal Rescue, we shoulder the majority of costs involved in operating a dog rescue. We take excellent care of all our rescues. In many cases, they are nurtured back to health and have learned to trust people again. By the time they are ready for their new home, they have had all their shots; they are neutered/spayed, and are micro-chipped. Any and all prior health conditions will be disclosed at the time of the adoption. Any health needs of the dog after the adoption is finalized, is the responsibility of the adopter from this date forward.

There is a donation fee per adopted dog, which will need to be paid at the time of the adoption. This is not an arbitrary fee, but a predetermined amount decided upon by PPI, Inc. and its members. If, for any reason, the dog you adopted does not work out well for you or your family, we require that you return the dog to us. You may choose another dog from us within that year. Regardless of whether or not you choose another dog, you will not be refunded the donation amount, as it will go towards funding Pet Place International, Inc. (which is tax deductible).

I _____ agree to commit to my new dog's care; and that if I return my adopted dog to PPI, Inc., that I may choose another dog within that year. The donation amount given to PPI, Inc. goes to fund Pet Place International, Inc. and is non-refundable. In addition, I agree to take full responsibility of any health issues, regular vaccinations, etc. of my adopted dog, and give it lots of love, attention, and regular exercise from this date forward.
